

PROFILE

I am an adventurous individual with a passion for equal opportunities. I have worked in a number of different fields, but have always had the desire to assist each person with their own goals and ambitions.

Languages have always fascinated me. I see them as a vital tool in connecting with others and they have great potential for inspiring change where it is needed. With my TESOL Diploma, I hope to share this love for language and open opportunities that otherwise would not be possible for people.
